Christine, happy new year. Finally an update from me on my test scores as I received the 2nd set today. The good news, is that I am almost there! Between the 2 tests I was able to pass 3 sections. But Schrijven I got a 491 and a 487. So not the 500 I need to pass. I have to take a midwife exam Feb 4th to see if I pass the next round of my application and then after that I would like to start dutch schrijven focused lessons with you. I think even if I don't pass through the midwife application, it's good for me to finish this and pass the writing.

Thank you for your help and I will be in touch when we re-start the writing! All the best - Arielle
